SUMMARY

Hi, I'm Ivan Oliver, a 20-year-old from Florida who's spent much of my life immersed in technology. I've always been drawn to helping others, especially when it comes to solving tech-related issues. Over the years, I've built solid experience in customer service, particularly in tech support. I'm skilled at troubleshooting and explaining solutions clearly, ensuring customers feel confident and understood. I'm also well-versed in using CRM systems and communication tools to manage customer interactions efficiently.
